CHANGE THE DUTIES IN MANY WAYS.

STATE COMMITTEE AMENDS THE TARIFF BILL.

Increase the Tax on Sugar—Provides for Repealing All Reciprocity Treaties Negotiated Under the McKinley Law—General News From Washington—To Shut Out Riders.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The democratic members of the finance committee have completed the consideration of the tariff bill and in its revised and completed form it was submitted to the full committee, republicans and democrats, yesterday. The most important change made in the bill is in the sugar schedule, a change being made by which an additional duty of one-eighth of 1 cent a pound is given on all sugars testing above 98 degrees by the polariscope test or which are above No. 16 Dutch standard in color. The text of the sugar schedule as agreed upon is as follows:

"All sugars, tank bottoms, sirups of cane, juice or of beef juice, melada, concentrated melada, concrete and concentrated molasses testing by the polariscope not above 80 degrees shall pay a duty of 1 cent a pound and for every additional degree or fraction of a degree above 80 and not above 90 degrees shown by the polariscope test, shall pay one one-hundredth part of a cent per pound additional, and above 90 and not above 98 degrees, for every additional degree or fraction of a degree shown by the polariscope test, shall pay a duty of two one-hundredths of a cent a pound additional, and upon all sugars testing above 98 degrees by the polariscope test or above No. 16 by the Dutch standard in color there shall be levied and collected a duty of one-eighth of 1 cent a pound in addition to the duty imposed upon sugars testing above 98 degrees; molasses testing not above 56 degrees by the polariscope shall pay a duty of 2 cents a gallon; molasses testing above 56 degrees shall pay a duty of 4 cents a gallon."

Tin plate, terne plate and tagger's tin, 1 cent per pound, instead of 1 1-5 cents as in the Wilson bill, the senate subcommittee not having before changed from the Wilson rate. In this paragraph the Wilson bill provision that the rate shall take effect Oct. 1, 1894, is restored.

The lead and lead ore duties are left unchanged from the senate subcommittee rates, as are the iron ore and coal duties.

The provisions abrogating the Hawaiian reciprocity treaty are struck from the revised bill and a specific declaration is inserted repealing the reciprocity treaties negotiated under the McKinley act.

In the internal revenue schedule the committee strikes out the provision which the senate subcommittee inserted, taxing cigars and cigarettes weighing more than three pounds $5 per thousand and cigarettes in paper not weighing more than three pounds, $1 per thousand, and wrapped in tobacco, 50 cents per thousand, thus leaving the taxes on these articles unchanged from the present law.

The provision in the income tax amendment relating to tax on building and loan associations, which was exempted by the house and stricken out when the senate subcommittee reported the bill, has been restored with the proviso that the tax shall not be levied upon those institutions which make no loans except to share holders for the purpose of enabling them to build homes.

The provision in the Wilson bill providing for the reimbursement of importers for damages to goods while in custody of custom officers has been stricken out and the present law remains in force.

In reporting the bill Senator Voorhees announced that he would call it up for consideration by the senate on April 2, one week from next Monday. Senator Morrill stated in behalf of the republican members of the committee that while they had made no objection to reporting the bill, they were opposed to the bill, particularly because of the income tax and the change from the specific to the ad valorem form of duties. Then Senator McPherson read a prepared statement in which he said that at the proper time he should offer amendments to strike out the income tax feature on the ground that it was unnecessary, un-American, undemocratic and unwise; and to restrict the sugar tests to the polariscope method, as he believed it dangerous to permit an inspector to have the choice of methods. The bill then went on the calendar and from now until April 2 the senators will be supposed to be studying the bill and preparing the speeches for and against it.

THE SUNDRY CIVIL BILL.

Reported to the House Yesterday—Leaves of Absence Revoked.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—In the house yesterday consideration of the sundry civil bill was resumed. Mr. Black (Ill.) replied to some of the remarks made in connection with soldiers' homes. With reference to the criticism that liquor was sold under the authorization of the board of managers at the homes, he defended the action of the board. Fifty years' of appetite, he said, could not be broken, and the establishment of beer halls, which correspond to the canteen system of the regular army, had been deemed both wise and humane. After general remarks on various subjects the committee rose and reported the bill and amendments to the house.

A clash then occurred as to the order of procedure, and, after some filibustering, Mr. Patterson offered a resolution revoking all leaves of absence and instructing the sergeant-at-arms to telegraph absentees to return. It was adopted. Then Mr. Patterson moved that when the house adjourn it be to meet Thursday next. The motion was carried—144 to 33—and the house adjourned until Thursday.

TO SHUT OUT "RIDERS."

But to Allow the President to Veto Particular Items in Appropriation Bills.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The question of amending the constitution so as to give the President the right to veto items of appropriation bills may be solved at this session. Frequently the chief executive finds provisions in these bills that are objectionable to him, yet rather than sacrifice the numerous items which would result from a veto, he signs the bills and they become laws as a whole. Representative de Armond of Missouri has introduced in the house a resolution amending the constitution so as to empower the President to veto any one or more items of an appropriation bill. The measure, if it becomes a law, will effectually put a stop to the practice of loading appropriation bills with "riders" which the authors can not get passed in any other shape.

In the Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—After Mr. Voorhees had introduced the tariff bill in the senate yesterday Mr. Morrill, one of the republican members of the finance committee, said he had no objection to the bill being reported, but he was opposed, not only to the income tax, but also the change from specific to ad valorem duties.

In answer to an inquiry Mr. Voorhees said there would be a written report when the bill is called up.

Mr. McPherson (dem., N. J.) explained his relation to the rest of the finance committee, stating that he had assented to the report believing the bill was the best obtainable in committee, though it did not entirely meet his views.

Mr. Turpie failed to secure an agreement for the consideration of his resolution declaring against the annexation of Hawaii, and then Mr. George addressed the senate on the legal aspect of Hawaiian affairs.

After some little unimportant business and an executive session the senate adjourned.

Navy Appropriations Bill Drafted.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The naval appropriation bill as prepared by the sub-committee was laid before the full committee yesterday. The estimates of the secretary amounted to $27,875,914 and the total amount recommended by the subcommiteee is $27,687,930. No new naval vessels are provided for in the bill in its present form. It is probable, however, that provision for three or four new torpedo boats will be inserted by the full committee. The number of enlisted persons has increased from 8,250 to 9,000 by the act of 1803. This alone requires a marked increase for pay of men. The new cruisers have made necessary an increase for coal of $191,000.

New Judge for Illinois.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The house judicial committee has agreed to report favorably a bill providing an additional district judge for the northern district of Illinois.

BLIZZARD IN NORTHWEST.

The Loss Cattle Is Estimated at 75 Per Cent.

OMAHA, Neb., March 21.—Dispatches from the northwestern part of the state report a fierce blizzard raged there last evening. It is said to be the worst one experienced this winter and stock is suffering from the exposure. The blizzard seems to be general in that part of the country.

CUSTER CITY, S. D., March 21.—A regular old-fashioned blizzard had possession of the Black Hills yesterday. The wind was from the northwest, and blew at the rate of forty miles an hour. The storm was unexpected, and for that reason caught every one unprepared.

FILLETTE, Wyo., March 21.—One of the worst blizzards this section of the country has ever experienced has been raging for the last twenty-four hours, with no signs of abatement. The wind is high and from the northwest. Careful estimates put the loss of range cattle during this storm at 75 per cent, owing to the previous weak condition of the stock and the lack of shelter.

DENVER, Colo., March 21.—The storm which raged in Wyoming all day reached Denver at 10 o'clock last night. It snowed hard and there was a high wind.

Bank Robbed at Centerville, Iowa.

OTTUMWA, Iawa, March 21.—The Centerville National bank at Centerville was broken into by burglars last night. They pried open the vault door and took a coal scuttle full of silver dollars and halves amounting to $3,000. They did not molest the safe. There is no clew.

Single Tax in Prince Edward's.

TORONTO, Ont., March 21.—Prince Edward Island government has declared for the adoption of the single tax on land, the licensing of banks, insurance companies, and commercial travelers, and the reduction of all cabinet ministers' salaries beginning with the premier's.

HONORS TO KOSSUTH IN EVERY LAND.

DEATH OF THE PATRIOT AWAKENS SORROW.

Orator Statesman and Liberator, The Entire World Honored Him—Hungarians Deeply Saddened—English Statesman Eulogizes America's Place Policy.

TURIN, March 21.—Louis Kossuth the eminent Hungarian patriot, died at 10:55 o'clock last evening. His end was extremely painful. He showed signs of consciousness until the last. He expired in the arms of his son and died pressing the hand of the Hungarian deputy Karolyi. The members of his family and a few of his intimate friends stood around the bedside of the expiring patriot. Nothing has yet been settled in regard to the details of the funeral. The municipal authorities of this city have offered the famiiy to allow the remains to be buried in the Pantheon here.

LONDON, March 21.—A dispatch to the Standard from Budapest says that the Hungarian government and the members of the national party in the diet have arrived at an agreement regarding the honors that will be shown Louis Kossuth now that he is dead. By reaching this agreement the fall of the ministry is averted.

EULOGIZES AMERICAN POLICY.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt Praises Our Peace Policy.

LONDON, March 21.—John Morley, replying to Thomas Sexton in the house of commons to-day said he did not say yesterday that the introduction of the evicted tenants' bill would be deferred sine die. Mr. Sexton might be assured that he, the chief secretary, was too well aware of the urgent importance of the bill to allow it to drop behind.

In the discussion of the navy estimates William Randal Cremer, member for the Haggerston division of Shoreditch and secretary of the International Arbitration league, suggested that England take the initiative in proposing to the other powers a reduction of armaments.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt said the navy was defensive and not aggressive like armies. He regarded the American policy, established by Washington more than a century ago, as a great example to be followed by all civilized countries. It was a policy of peace and of abstention from complications with other countries. The secret of this policy was that the Atlantic ocean separates America and Europe. Great Britain in its superior navy would have as great security from invasion as the Atlantic ocean affords America.

CAUSE OF THE SURRENDER.

Rebels Deserted Their Ships Only When They Had No Ammunition.

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, via Galveston, Texas, March 21.—Friends of the Brazilian insurgents in this city have received word from Rio Janeiro that President Peixoto's defeat of the rebels in Rio Bay was a bombastic fiasco. According to the account Admiral Saldanha da Gama being unable to hold out any longer on account of a total lack of ammunition and provisions, caused his forts and ships to be abandoned the night before the final bombardment of the rebel fleet. The government forts and batteries fired furiously upon the vessels the next day, although President Peixoto knew the enemy had left them, and such bad marksmanship was never seen in Rio harbor, the report says.

Accepted by Both Parties.

BERLIN, March 21.—The Russo-German commercial treaty ratifications were exchanged at the foreign office between Baron Marschall von Bieberstein, the secretary of state for foreign affairs, and Count Schouvaloff, the Russian ambassador.

May Dissolve in July.

LONDON, March 21.—The Times says that in the best-informed radical circles it is taken for granted that parliament will dissolve in July, if not earlier.

Open-Hearth Plants Amalgamating.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa,. March 21.—The Standard Steel company's plant at Chester, Pa., have passed into the hands of the American Steel-Casting company, represented by Weston & Waterbury of New York City. The American company desires to consolidate all the open-hearth steel plants under one management. The Standard represents a $1,000,000 investment.

COLONEL WILL TAKE THE STAND HIMSELF.

BRECKENRIDGE'S ATTORNEYS MAKE ANSWER TO-DAY.

Denies Most of the Charges Made by Miss Pollard and Says Ample Proof Will Be Offered Before the Defense Rests Its Case.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The examination of Miss Pollard was concluded this morning and the plaintiff rested. The defense took twenty minutes for conference and Major Shelby announced in his opening argument that the defendant did not know Miss Pollard had been delivered of a living child until he heard it testified to on the stand; that the plaintiff knew the defendant had never made a contract to marry her and had not seduced her; that the defendant would take the stand in his own behalf.

The examination to which Miss Pollard was subjected was a severe one. The conclusion of it was a review of her previous testimony. "When did you first meet Mrs. Blackburn?" was Mr. Butterworth's first question.

Miss Pollard said she had met the widow of the ex-governor of Kentucky in the winter of 1890 when she (Miss Pollard) was stopping in Washington with Mrs. Fillette. Mrs. Blackburn had called at the house and the hostess had presented them.

Letters said to have been written by her to Mr. Rhodes were read to the jury. The letters were written in a most affectionate strain and were appeals for money. They did not strengthen the case for the plaintiff, tending to show that Miss Pollard, in spite of her denials, had been intimate with other men than Col. Breckinridge.

Afterward Miss Pollard declared the letters were written at Col. Breckinridge's dictation and with the purpose of deceiving the world as to their relations. The plaintiff said:

"Mr. Breckinridge planned them all; dictated them to me. Some of them he wrote on the twpewriter when I was ill at the asylum and not able to write, sayiug in explanation that I was learning the typewriter. Some of them he wrote in advance and dated ahead. He would mail them on cars, or wherever they would not be postmarked."

The story of the attempt to shoot Col. Breckinridge in New York was then told by Miss Pollard, she claiming that she was driven to madness by the repeated breaking of his most solemn promises. She also said that when asked about his relations with Mrs. Wing, Col. Breckinridge riviled his present wife in a terrible manner. When she was asked what were the things Col. Breckinridge had said of Mrs. Wing Miss Pollard refused to repeat them, saying she would not talk that way of another woman and would not be pressed. Again, when asked if he had not suggested that they break their relations off, she struck the witness-box with her open hand, exclaiming, "No, never! never! There was never such a word hinted on his part. I gave up my babies for him because he insisted on it. He said that if I kept them they would be surely traced to him A woman can't do more than that; she can't do more than give up her children. I laid my baby in its coffin because it needed a mother's care, which I had not been able to give it, because he made me put it away from me. I—never—let—him—see—me—cry—over—it. I never——"; the sentence was not finished for Madeline Pollard's head was bowed on her arms on the witness box, her slender frame was shaking with great sobs. No man in the court room broke the silence by a whisper until Mr. Wilson suggested that the court should adjourn, which it did. Col. Breckinridge turned around and smiled, but he walked from the court house to the office of his lawyers with his head bent in a dejected way and with his hat in his hand, speaking to no one.

SECRET CONFERENCE HELD.

Cripple Creek Mine Owners Will Fight the Strikers.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., March 21.—A secret conference of mine owners has been held, at which the situation at Cripple Creek was thoroughly discussed. They are determined to adhere to the original schedule of nine hours at $3 and will have nothing to do with a compromise, saying that the matter is now in the courts. The sheriff has sent the governor a telegram stating the serious consequences likely to ensue if the militia forces were withdrawn. The owners have also memorialized the government asking that the troops be retained to protect life and property.

Trainmen Condemn a Wage Cut.

BRAZIL, Ind., March 21.—The circular issued by the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad officials notifying their employes of a reduction of wages from April 20 met with universal condemnation among the trainmen here. The cut will be 10 per cent, which is considered unfair by the employes, who claim that it is unwarranted and declare they will not accept the cut. An enormous meeting of the employes was held here yesterday. No definite conclusion was reached, but it is generally believed the reduction will be refused and a general strike ordered.

NATIONAL DELEGATES.

Mr. Manley's Figures Touching the Proposed Change in Representation.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Chairman Manley of the Republican executive committee, in a letter to ex-Speaker Reed, explains some things about the proposed change in the basis of representation in the national convention. The question comes up again through a resolution offered at the last meeting of the national committee in this city, when Mr. Scott of West Virginia proposed that the next Republican National convention should be composed of two delegates-at-large from each state and territory, one delegate from each congressional district in the United States, and an additional delegate for each 7,000 republican votes cast in any congressional district at the presidential election of 1892, with a delegate for the fraction of 7,000 votes greater than one-half.

Chairman Manley says: "If the call should be based upon this resolution, the following states will have the same number of delegates as if the call were based upon the old representation of four delegates-at-large from each state and two from each congressional district: Delaware, Montana, North Dakota, Rhode Island. The following states would gain in representation, as follows: California, 7; Colorado, 2; Connecticut, 5; Illinois, 32; Indiana, 22; Iowa, 19; Kansas, 14; Kentucky, 7; Maine, 2; Maryland, 6; Massachusetts, 9; Michigan, 21; Minnesota, 9; Missouri, 14; Nebraska, 4; New Hampshire, 2; New Jersey, 10; New York, 54; North Carolina, 6; Ohio, 34; Pennsylvania, 33; South Dakota, 2; Vermont, 2; Virginia, 6; West Virginia, 6; Wisconsin, 13.

"The following states would lose in representation, as follows: Alabama, 11; Arkansas, 4; Florida, 4; Georgia, 13; Idaho, 2; Louisiana, 8; Mississippi, 9; Nevada, 3; Oregon, 1; South Carolina, 9; Tennessee, 2; Texas, 11; Wyoming, 2. It would increase the number of delegates in the convention from 902 to 1,165, making a net increase of 263 delegates."

Under this plan of representation three southern states would gain eighteen delegates, while the loss in nine southern states would aggregate sixty-one, leaving the net southern loss in the national convention forty-three votes.

WAITE KEEPS SOLDIERS.

Impeachment or Assassination Alone Can Deter Him from His Purpose.

DENVER, Colo., March 21.—The First Regiment Colorado National guard arrived here from Cripple Creek last night and will be kept under orders to be ready for immediate service until the police board trouble is settled. An opinion in the case submitted by Gov. Waite to the Supreme court is not expected before Friday. Unless the court gives a direct answer to the governor's question of whether Orr and Martin or Mullin and Barnes are entitled to the seats in the board which are in contention, the governor will not be bound by any opinion the court may see fit to deliver and will again take steps to seat his latest appointees. Judge Platt Rogers, the governor's principal counsel, said: "Impeachment or assassination only can interfere with the governor in calling out the troops of the state. The court has no more right to advise the head of the executive in regard to that matter than has a private individual. The governor has not asked for any opinion on that subject."

PLEDGED TO RESUBMISSION.

House Republicans Vote in Caucus on Liquor Legislation.

DES MOINES, Iowa, March 21.—The house republicans held a caucus last night and discussed liquor legislation. Both the prohibitionists and the anti-prohibitionists were present and both sides were firm. First they attempted to have the Carpenter bill indorsed with a proposition to resubmit the question of constitutional prohibition. This was defeated. Many members then left the caucus and the remainder tried to have the house committee bill indorsed along with re-submission. After a considerable discussion this was adopted and the thirty-four members present pledged themselves to vote for the proposition.

GOV. RICH SUSTAINED.

Michigan Supreme Court Endorses the Removal of State Officers.

LANSING, Mich., March 21.—The Supreme court has rendered a decision sustaining Governor Rich in removing Secretary of State Joachim, State Treasurer Hambitzer and Land Commissioner Berry for gross negligence in failing personally to canvass the returns of the amendment election of 1893. The court holds that it was within the power of the governor to remove such officials under the constitution and he has power to determine the facts. A judgment of ouster is entered.

New appointments were made at once and are as follows:

Secretary of State—The Rev. Washington Gardner of Albion.

State Treasurer—James M. Wilkinson of Marquette.

Land Commissioner—William A. French of Belle.

Silver Men Meet in Des Moines.

FLATS IN FLAMES; FOURTEEN FALL.

MANY INJURED IN A NEW YORK BLAZE TODAY.

Famous "Mixed Ale" Building Goes Up In Smoke and Occupants Suffer—Two Young Lovers Hang Themselves With the Same Rope Because They Could't Wed.

NEW YORK, March 21—Fourteen people were badly injured this morning in a fire in the famous "Mixed Ale" flats. The fire is believed to have been incendiary.

CLINTON, Iowa, March 21.—Three incendiary fires in three different parts of the city last night came near causing a general blaze. The total losses were about $5,000. George Carter, a bicycle expert, was asleep in a burning building and nearly perished, but was rescued by Police Captain Cole. Carter loses $1,500; E. G. Fenlon, flour and feed, $2,000.

DIED BY THE SAME ROPE.

Diamatic Suicide of Two Lovers Who Were Too Young To Marry.

OSKALOOSA, Iowa, March 21.—The bodies of John Reed and Etta Shaw, son and daughter of farmers of this county, were found late last night hanging from a limb of a tree, eight miles from this city. Their parents refused to permit them to marry on account of their youth. The deed was probably committed Sunday night, when they were last seen driving in the neighborhood. They unhitched the horse and, standing in the buggy, threw a rope across a limb, and tying one end to each of their necks swung off into eternity. Letters were found on each body giving directions for the disposal of personal effects. The requests were carried out and the graves were made side by side in the county cemetery of the local neighborhood.

NEGROES MAY BE LYNCHED.

Wholesale Vengeance for the Murder of a Texas Planter.

WHARTON, Texas, March 21.—H. G. Bouldin, a wealthy planter in Matagorda county, reprimanded his negro employes. Late yesterday afternoon a mob of fifty negroes went to his house and shot him to death. Only one white man resides within miles of Bouldin's place. He soon organized a posse. Constable Hearst of Wharton also raised a posse and reports say that sixteen leaders of the negro mob have been captured and jailed at Matagorda. The excitement is intense and a race conflict may occur, as there is every indication that the Matagorda jail will be stormed and the assassins taken out and put to death.

Shot His Niece and Self.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 21.—William J. Bewig, a boss bricklayer, living at 3120 Eads avenue, shot and fatally wounded his niece yesterday. He then turned the weapon on himself and fired a bullet into his head, killing himself almost instantly. No cause for the double tragedy is known.

Stopped the Train in Time.

SITUATION AT MASSILLON.

Coxey Is Receiving Encouraging Letters Promising Support.

MASSILLON, Ohio, March 21.—Mr. Coxey has received a check from some unknown supporter for $500, but he declines to tell anything concerning it. The reports that Sheriff Doll has prepared to swear in deputy sheriffs from the members of the four military companies in this county are denied by that official with vigor. He says he will not move until there is occasion to act.

The situation here is peculiar. There is a manifest inability on the part of residents to believe that all the promises received by Coxey will be realized, at the same time encouraging letters are coming in vastly increasing quantity. They bring definite assurances respecting men, subsistence and money. Mr. Coxey says that he expects to see 10,000 recruits here Easter day and as many idle spectotors.

There is absolutely no disorder nor any sign of the approaching army, and yet the timid part of the population is in a state of approaching unrest never before known. It is impossible to believe Coxey's claim that there will be 20,000 people here Sunday, as local railroads have not prepared to move a single excursion thus far, and should they arrive they will necessarily leave hungry and thirsty, as every shop will be closed tight.

Coxey and Browne spoke again last night on the Charles Street Square to perhaps 600 people, who manifested much enthusiasm.

Death in a Freight Wreck.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., March 21.—A Nickel Plate freight train broke in two two miles west of here yesterday. The two sections came together with a crash and two cars, loaded with oats, were telescoped. John Mulqueen and Harry Leroy were instantly killed, Mulqueen has a wife and family at Paterson, N. J. He was about 40 and his partner 30 years old. It is supposed they were stealing a ride home.

BIG CHARGE OF SHOT PIERCED HIS HEART.

CHARLES HAWKINS INSTANTLY KILLED IN AVON.

Fatal Accident to a Hunter Makes An Invalid Wife a Widow and Leaves Three Children Fatherless—Unfortunate Was Launching a Boat When His Breach Loader Was Discharged.

The accidental discharge of his gun killed Charles Hawkins instantly last Sunday and made his invalid wife a widow with three children to care for. Hawkins resided in Avon and he and his brother Joe went to shoot ducks from a boat. In embarking Charles put his gun which was loaded in the boat, resting the barrell on the edge. In launching, the gun slid down and the weapon was discharged. The charge pierced his heart. He spoke only once saying "I am gone." His brother caught him in his arms, threw water on his burning clothes, and in two minutes Charles was dead. The widow and orphan are left in stringent circumstances. The funeral conducted by Mr. Woodruff of the M. E. church was the largest assembly that has gathered in the church for years.

SANSPAREIL

BOARD BLAMED WITHOUT CAUSE

J. H. Haviland Does the County Supervisors a Decided Injustice in His Letter.

J. H. Haviland protests against returning the old county board of supervisors for another year. He fears additional bonds should they be called upon to build a new jail, and says they have been "shamefully extravagant" in putting up the county asylum Other points he makes in a letter addressed to The Gazette, are that land should have been bought near a railroad station, and where water could have been found more cheaply. He also thinks that 380 acres of land is 180 acres too much.

Mr. Haviland is unfair to the members of the present board. Members of the state board of control and others who have examined the figures say that Rock county's money has been well and economically used. The land selected was the best of a dozen or more very excellent pieces. It lies longside a railroad and a side track built especially for the use of the farm makes it possible to do away with all teaming. The farm is in every way suitable, the buildings are models and the cost is much below what other counties have paid for similar grounds and building.

LOCAL COLORED MAN'S RISE.

Dr. D. H. Williams. One of Illinois Most Popular Physicians.

Dr. Daniel H. Williams, recently appointed surgeon-in-chief of the Freedman's Hospital at Washington, is one of the most substantial of Chicago's colored citizens. He is a native of Pennsylvania and came to Janesville about twenty-five years ago a poor young man. From here he went to Chicago to study medicine.

He now pays taxes on nearly $100,000 dollars worth of property. A keen sense of business combined with firm habits of thrift make him an influential factor in the development of the colored citizens of Chicago. Dr. Williams is a graduate of the Chicago Medical College; he was a member of the state board of health for five years; he is a member of the various medical societies in this state and is also connected with the Hamilton Club.

The position to which he has been appointed is non-political, and was tendered to him as one thoroughly equipped to maintain the Freedman's Hospital upon the high plane established by Dr. Purvis, the retiring surgeon-and-chief. A number of improvements are already in contemplation by Dr. Williams in the management of the institution, which will include an ambulance service and a training school for nurses. The efficient hospital service furnished the Provident hospital in Chicago and its school for nurses owe their origin to Dr. Williams. He will leave for the field of his new duties about April 1.

NOTHING IS NEWER THAN THIS BLOUSE,

PATTERN FREE TO ALL GAZETTE READERS.

All That Is Necessary Is to Cut Out and Sign the Subjoined Coupon and Send it to New York With Four Cents In Stamps.

As announced several days ago The Gazette has made arrangements by which it offers free to readers the Demorest cut paper patterns, which are worth from 20 cents to fifty cents each, thus making every copy of this paper worth from 20 cents to 50 cents. Cut out the coupon below and mail according to the directions on it, and you will receive by return mail the pattern in the sizes chosen.

Enclose two 2-cent stamps to pay for mailing, handling, etc. Without the coupon the pattern would cost you from 20 cents to 50 cents.

The Kominsky blouse which is illustrated today comes in sizes 34, 36, 38 and 40 inches bust measure. For slender figures this is an especially becoming design. The outer part of the waist is slightly full at the bottom over a fitted lining having all the usual seams, and the upper part, back and front, is faced to simulate a yoke. The skirt is in circle shape, and should be made separate from the waist so that it can be omitted when a tight-fitting outer garment is worn. The outer front of the waist should be fastened on the left shoulder and under the arm. The model is particularly desirable for medium-weight spring and summer goods, and offers opportunity for handsome combinations. With cotton and light-weight silks, embroidery or lace could be very effectively used for the yoke and one or two of the caps over the sleeves. The patterns for the waist lining and the plain sleeves could be used for the cheapest materials. The "Kominisky" is shown in combinations with the "Yorke" skirt, described below, but can be worn with any other style.

He Hung Onto His Neck Until His Nose Bled.

An East side business man owns a bulldog that is a fighter from Gougeville. The bulldog picked a fight with Will Graves' Scotch collie, and they had it. The collie humped his back and jumped three feet into the air, and when he came down he was on the bulldog's neck. He hung on until the blood began to run from the bulldog's nose. An immense crowd had gathered, and Officer McGinley grabbed the bull pup by the tail while Graves go the same hold on his animal. Finally they got them separated and at last reports eight dogs had talked sassy to the bulldog without being answered back.

A SEASON OF SILKS.

Revivals of Many Old Fashioned Fabrics, Including Lutestring and Taffeta.

If one may believe as high authority in matters pertaining to dress and fashion as Harper's Bazar, we are to have a season of silks. Among revivals of many old fashioned fabrics French manufacturers are showing lutestring silks like those worn half a century ago, when Queen Victoria was young. These are soft to the touch, yet are stoutly woven and very lustrous, like taffeta. They come in quaint chine designs of flowers and dashes of vivid colors on pale grounds.

Moire taffeta is announced among the light silks. These are strong, yet light of weight, and have shot grounds, with large moire designs, and either chine figures or fine dots of the color least in evidence. Pale mauve moire taffeta is shot with pink, green with brown, violet with black and light blue with black. Dark blue taffeta watered in large waves and dotted with white will make the coolest looking of all dark dresses for summer, and brown taffeta shot with violet is also effective. White moire taffeta pointille with a color is for summer evening wear. Fine cross stripes of color, scarcely more than two threads each, are in pink and nile green on black taffeta, and small chine leaves are added in the color of the stripes.

Chine designs promise to be the feature of next season in goods of various kinds, both of silks and of wool, with hard twisted smooth surfaces. Chine and clouded taffeta will be used for shirt waists and for the plastrons of plain wool dresses. They are in charming shades of mauve, gray blue and ecru, and are usually of two or three colors shot together. A frill below the belt will be a feature in many shirt waists, giving the popular effect of a short basque.

Liberty satins are imported for short waists in dark shades of blue, strewn with square dots of white set in irregular clusters. Ecru satins have very tiny black dots clustered together. Black satins for entire dresses are shown in a new weave of slight reps, known as arabian satin.

For the silk gown that is now worn on a greater number of occasions than formerly for both street and house are dark taffetas, pin dotted or striped, or else soft twilled silks with heavier diagonals than those of surah. These can be had in great variety for $1 a yard. Richer bengalines, with waving cords, and many repped silks, blending two or three colors most harmoniously, are $1.50 a yard. At some of the best shops dress lengths of black or of colored silks are sold for $23. The economist who knows how to combine colors and fabrics can do still better than this by using two remnants in the same gown—one of five or six yards for the waist and sleeves, the other of 10 yards for the skirt and its trimming.

Raised Doughnuts.

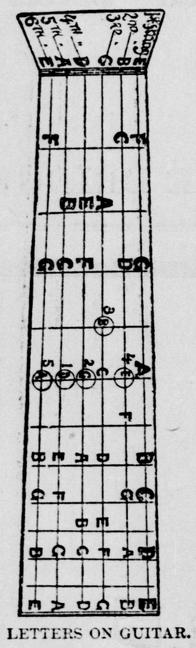

Two cups of sweet milk, a cup of sugar, half cup of butter creamed with the sugar, a cup of homemade yeast, 2 eggs well beaten. Add flour and mold into a stiff dough. Let it rise until very light; then roll it out to a sheet about half an inch thick, cut out your cakes and let them stand on floured plates in a warm place and rise again until very light. Fry in hot fat, shake off the grease and roll in pulverized sugar while hot.

A simple way to attain a similar end is to take, in the morning of your baking day, about a pint of your light bread dough (of course this presupposes that your bread was set over night) and work into it a beaten egg, half a cup of sugar, a piece of butter the size of a walnut and a little nutmeg or cinnamon. Roll out thin, cut and let them rise; then fry and treat as above.

First Lesson In Guitar Playing.

First of all learn the letter names of the strings. There are seven letters used to name the tones of the guitar—E, F, G, A, B, C, D—which are repeated over and over again three times to provide a name for each tone. The beginner should first learn the letter names of the strings; then the tones made by pressing the strings will be easily located. The first three gut strings are E, B, G. The three bass (silver wrapped) strings are D, A, E.

Strictly speaking, the open strings may make many tones of different pitch, depending on the tension of the string, but in music the tone made by the open string always takes the name of the string. Notice that letters naming the open strings are always four letters apart, except G, B, which are three. Hence we say the guitar is tuned in fourths, except B, which is tuned to a third. You will observe the object of the long fingerboard is to produce a number of tones on a few strings. The frets unerringly direct where to stop the strings to produce the several tones of the scale. Students who have had music lessons know that the letters occur on every instrument just as they are found in the natural scale—that is, all the letters are found one whole tone apart, except E, F, and B, C, which are one-half tone apart.

LETTERS ON GUITAR.

Each fret on the fingerboard is one-half tone apart. This explanation from a musician in Farm, Field and Fireside will prepare you to understand the letters on the guitar. Learn to draw a copy of this from memory and write the bold faced letters on the strings above the frets where they are located, and you will be agreeably surprised at how readily you can locate each letter on the fingerboard if this suggestion is practiced.

MASCULINITIES.

TRAGEDY AND COMEDY.

An American now in Lima, Peru, sends home a literal translation of a Lima newspaper's account of the last great football game in New York. The correspondent assures the editor and his readers that homicide is no infrequent feature of the sport, and bids American critics of the Spanish bull fight keep silence hereafter for very shame.

Rev. Mr. Gormly made some remarks at the Free Methodist revival meeting at New Brighton, Pa., about a young woman who recently died which caused a young man who had been a close friend to the girl to give the minister a sound thumping. Had it not been for the interference of others it is believed he would have killed him.

"The grim humor of the camp waged eternal warfare on the general despondency," said General Gordon. On one occasion a prayer meeting was held in camp, and one of the soldiers was called on to pray. "Oh, Lord," he said, "we are in the midst of a terrible battle and in an awful lot of trouble. We hope you will take a proper view of the matter and give us the victory."

SHE SCARED THE CONDUCTOR.

How a Little Old Woman Caught Her Train in Chicago.

Charles Averill is the biggest railroad conductor who runs a train in Chicago. He is six feet six inches in height and turns the beam at 280 pounds. And his popularity does not take second place even to his size. Those who have seen him under circumstances calculated to call out any evil in a man's nature are willing to aver that his heart is proportionately the largest organ in his huge anatomy. Averill runs what is known as the Libertyville acommodation on the Milwaukee and St. Paul road out of Chicago every evening at 5:20 o'clock. It is a popular train, and as it is the only one which many suburbanites can take in leaving the city, it is generally crowded. The crowd is big enough sometimes to cause delay for a minute or two beyond schedule time. It was bigger than usual the other evening.

When the train got to Pacific Junction more time was lost. It did seem as if the last passenger that wanted to dismount there would never leave the car platform. Conductor Averill's impatience was clearly visible on his usually good-humored countenance, and the feet of the last passenger had barely touched the ground when he swung his lantern, and the train started.

Hardly had the wheels begun to revolve when a piercing shriek was heard from the rear end of the train. Men jumped to their feet in alarm and everybody supposed that some frightful accident had occurred. Conductor Averill's face turned white as a sheet. Had his impatience in starting the train been the cause of injuring somebody? That was the first thought that suggested itself to his mind and it made him shudder. Grasping the cord that sets the air-brakes, he had the train at a stop again in a twinkling.

"Oh! oh! oh! What will I do?" came from the rear end of the train in heartrending tones that struck dismay to every breast. A stride or two and the big conductor was at the spot from whence they proceeded.

"Oh! oh! oh! I have missed my train, and what will I do. I don't get home to-night, and a little old woman, with heavy basket on arm waded laboriously through the deep snow viewing the rear end of what she supposed was the departing train. Averill picked her up under one arm, threw her up on the car, and again signaled the train to proceed. His face was a study for a minute or two. Feelings of relief, annoyance and mirth contended for mastery in expression.

"Well," said he, as he at last found words. "I'm thankful that that poor body is not ground to a pulp, as I supposed; "but what made you scream so?" he added, addressing the woman.

"Oh, I'm so glad I did," the woman replied. "I'm so glad you stopped the train. Now I can get home to-night," and the little old woman broke into a merry laugh.

Now it is a standing joke with the passengers of that train about Conductor Averill's experience with the little old woman.

IT WILL NOT WORK.

For three months the democratic party has been putting forth its best efforts to force a religious issue in the spring campaign. It knew that without some such democratic small bore trick—a trick by which it hopes to fool the public into giving it another victory—it had no show whatever in the municipal election near at hand. The ruse will not succeed. The game has been tried in all parts of the state and the Milwaukee Telegraph in commenting on it says:

"Nothing would so please the leaders of the democratic party as to see the religious issue accepted by republicans, but it will never be pleased in that way. The republican party does not look to that source—a democratic source—for its issues. It does not depend upon that order for its issues. It does not allow that party to dictate what its politics shall be. The democratic party must not expect to fill the eyes of the public with religious issue dust so that the public will forget to keep in view the short comings of city, state and national democratic administrations. If the democrats had no small bore trick to force the religious issue, they know that they would be buried in Milwaukee under a majority of at least 10,000. Their failure to mislead the republicans into their religious row scheme makes certain a democatic defeat more pronounced than they have suffered in Milwaukee for years."

FROM TOP TO BOTTOM.

In the treasurership contest this spring Janesville voters must decide between a man who stands by his party, and a man who seems to have no use for either party except as it can help him to get office. Between two such men it should not be difficult to choose. In the canvass for the city treasuryship, however, republicans should not overlook the election of aldermen and other city officers. The republicans have exceptionally good candidates for aldermen in each of the wards. Supervisors, school commissioners and constables, also are men qualified for the places assigned, and republicans have no reason for withholding a cheerful support to the republican nominees. Then comes the offices of street commissioner, school commissioner, city attorney, and justice, on the general city ticket. The candidates are all men in whom the people may safely trust. Now that voters are flocking to the republican party from every side the ticket should be supported from top to bottom, and be triumphantly elected on April 3.

HAS TO TAKE IT BACK.

The writer in the Recorder concedes now that he was mistaken in his statement of cases tried by Judge Bennett, and reversed by the supreme court. He admits also that his computation of the percentage was a mistake. And he concludes farther that he made a mistake in the first place, in trying at all to injure Judge Bennett in that way; and that, after all, the percentage of cases reversed is no test of the fitness of a judge.

In that we quite agree with him. But he should have considered that before he made the attempt, and got himself into such difficulties.

The people of Rock county have had too many opportunities to decide for themselves as to Judge Bennett's fitness for the position he holds for this man to presume to instruct them about it.

A STARTLING STATEMENT.

Truth Stranger Than Fiction---Harrowing and Touching Narative Showing the Daily Perils Besetting the Path of all Classes in the City.

That life in a great city is as full of danger and perils as on the rolling deep is aptly illustrated in the remarkable experience of John Copeland which we are about to relate. "It was about eight years ago," said Mr. Copeland in Dr. McChesney's office yesterday, "that I began treating for what appeared to be a bad cold; the cough kept increasing and the medicine seemed to do me little good. At that time it did not alarm me much, but I felt uneasy because I did not get cured up; my breath became difficult, my cough expectoration more troublesome; I had a peculiar fullness in my chest. I became thoroughly alarmed when my chest and lungs began to pain me so that I could not sleep nights. I was afraid I was going into consumption, and was about giving up all hopes when I saw that Dr. McChesney was a specialist on diseases of the lungs, I concluded that a specialist was what I wanted. I was informed that my lungs were weak and that my case was a curable one. I placed myself under his treatment. Soon my cough left me, my breath came free and easy, appetite returned; I gained strength rapidly, and to-day I feel as well as I ever did in my life; I feel that many years of my life were lost because I did not have the proper treatment before, and I feel so well that I cannot complain; in fact I am perfectly cured, having no signs of my former trouble. I want to say here to all who suffer with any form of lung trouble not to hesitate, but go at once and see Dr. McChesney. He makes a specialty of bronchitis, asthma, bronchial catarrh, and all eye, ear, throat and lung troubles. I am willing to make sworn statements to the above if necessary.' Any one doubting the above can call at Dr. McChesney's office in the Wilcox block, opposite Hotel Myers and be convinced of the truth.

Mansfield Eagerly Awaited.

Richard Mansfield will make his eagerly expected appearance at Myers Opera House on Saturday evening next. Out of the nine plays in Mr. Mansfield's repertoire "Beau Brummell," has been selected. Mr. Mansfield has extraordinary talent as an actor of widely divergent character, a literary skill that is delicate and adroit, and great ability as an artistic producer of plays. He always seeks perfect and harmonious results. Cost is never counted, no expenditure of vital force or personal endeavor is too great.

Weisend, the clothier, opposite the post office, has a flag swung from the third story, and his store is the place where you can buy your spring clothing cheap. MAY NOT HAVE THAT COLD SPELL

E. T. Brown Goes Into the Forecast Business On His Own Hook.

E. Tracy Brown of the Brown & Lincoln shoe firm is something of a weather prophet himself. This morning he called on Weather Clark Burnham to see what he had done with the cold wave and the ten days severe winter predicted.

"The wind is now from the southeast," he said, "and I believe the great storm has jumped over us and gone on east. I have studied these atmospheric currents some. Such things frequently occur. A heavy storm may appear at St. Paul or in the west and appear to be bearing down on a certain course. Suddenly this storm will be lifted from the earth and pass over a large tract, striking the earth again hundreds of miles away, leaving the intervening space undisturbed. I may be mistaken in this case. but with the southeast wind prevailing this morning, I believe we have been skipped this time."

FATHERS IS HAPPY OVER THE OUTLOOK.

MANY DEMOCRATS WILL GIVE HIM SUPPORT.

As Things Look Now the Republican Ticket From First To Last Will Be Elected by a Handsome Majority—Stirring Platform Adopted in Milwaukee.

The indications are that fully three thousand votes will be cast at the city election, and that with but two candidates in the field for tressurer the winner must have over fifteen hundred to secure the office. Everything at this time indicates that James A. Fathers, the republican candidate, will have over this number. Many democrats are coming to his support, claiming that they prefer an outspoken party man to one who has made the reputation of caring nothing for either party except to secure office. Mr. Fathers, besides being upright and honest in all his dealings with his fellow men, is an outspoken republican, from morning until night, and is always ready and willing to give aid and comfort to his party nominee without expectation of reward. He is a good business man and would make an excellent treasurer.

PLATFORM IS A GOOD ONE.

Republicans Can March To Victory on the Milwaukee Manifesto.

Ringing with assurances of victory is the platform adopted by Milwaukee republicans in nominating Mayor Koch. Among the planks are these:

"The republican party believes in a sound national currency, with dollars of equal value and equal purchasing power. It believes in protecting American markets for American manufacturers and wage-workers. It believes in a tariff which shall produce revenue rather than a tariff which shall produce a deficit.

"It believes in the absolute separation and independence of church and state; in the absolute and unqualified rights of conscience and personal liberty; and, as in all its glorious history, so now with wide open doors it invites and welcomes to its ranks on terms of absolute equality all citizens of the republic, of whatever creed or sect or nativity, who accept the principles of the party. And we denounce the democratic party for attempting to divide our people in their political action on lines of religious belief."

JANESVILLE STILL AHEAD.

A Long-Felt Want Filled by "Mine Host", Miller, of the Hotel Myers.

Janesville leads in a great many things, and will always continue to do so as long as such men are in the midst as "Mine Host" Miller, of the Hotel Myers. Mr. Miller's great aim is to give Janesville a hotel that she will be proud of. He and Mr. Paddock took hold of the Myers about three years ago. It was then in somewhat of a dilapidated condition, but with their vast experience in hotel business they went to work to build it up. How well they have succeeded, any one in Janesville can answer. A few weeks ago Mr. Paddock was stricken with rheumatism and had to go to Hot Springs. Mr. Miller bought his interest and is now conducting the Myers alone. The improvements he has put in lately are vast and many. One has but to pass along the street to see them. A handsome new floor has been laid in the wash room and sample room; new fixtures put in the sample room; new electric lights; an elegant barber shop annexed; and last, but by far the greatest of all Sayre's Turkish and Russian baths. For the last two months carpenters, painters, plasters and architects have been busy in the basement of the Hotel Myers. Hundreds have wondered what was going on. To-morrow afternoon and evening you will be given an opportunity to see for yourselves. Mr. Miller will hold a grand opening for ladies and gentlemen. You are one and all invited to be present and participate in the festivities. A description of the bath parlors is almost useless, as we cannot do them justice, you must see to do them justice. However we will try and tell you the best we can. Mr. Miller and Mr. Sayre have gone to several thousand dollars expense in the last two months. They have now one of the finest Turkish and Russian bath parlors in the United States. Nothing in Chicago is better. You can have a bath there from twenty-five cents up. There are fine bath tubs, a shower, a Turkish, a Russian and one of the finest plunges you ever saw. The parlors are handsomely furnished with carpets, elegantly upholstered couches and chairs, lighted by electric light. In fact everything has been done to make Sayre's Turkish and Russian bath parlors at the Hotel Myers, one of the most enticing places in the city. Such men as Mr. Miller should be appreciated in any city. He is doing much for the advancement of Janesville. The traveling public will make an effort to Sunday here, as the bath parlors are quite an object. The parlors are under the supervision of T. E. Sayre, who is an expert in giving baths. He will endeavor at all times to make you feel at home and satisfy you. Every lady and gentleman in Janesville should go there to-morrow afternoon and evening and see a thorough bath parlor. The great experience in the hotel business which Mr. Miller has had, is now coming into use. Janesville has a hotel, the Myers, that is without a doubt the best in the state.

RICHARD F. HAWLEY IS DEAD.

Well Known Janesville Hotel Man Answers The Last Summons.

Death conquered Richard F. Hawley last night after he had made a long drawn out struggle against fate. The announcement will cause many a sight for Mr. Hawley was a man who made friends. Four years ago he was the jolly and smiling clerk at the Park Hotel. Death seemed twenty years away but disease did quick work and Mr. Hawley is gone. Many was the good natured joke that Mr. Hawley helped to concoct at that popular hotel and many was the news item that he gave to the Janesville papers. Mr. Hawley was married twice and a wife and child survive him. For some time past he had been blind and was a great sufferer. He bore his load without complaining and the end came peacefully. The funeral was held from the home 112 Lincoln street 2:30 o'clock this afternoon conducted by Rev. J. D. Cole, of the First Methodist church, being held at the home on Lincoln street, at 3 o'clock. The pall bearers were Arnold Tift, Frank Thompson, John Jones, C. J. McDonald, Frank Horning, John Stevens.

Mrs. Daniel C. Converse.

Mrs. Daniel C. Converse died at Fort Atkinson Sunday March 18. Mrs. Converse was formerly Miss Medora Pease of this city and well known to the members of the First M. E. church, of which she was a member. She was married and moved to Ft. Atkinson one year ago.

HIT AN ICE BERG IN THE NIGHT.

DR. HENRY PALMER IS BACK FROM EUROPE.

Return Trip Was Retarded By Head Seas and By a Collision With a "Floater" From the North Pole—Four Pleasant Weeks Spent In England and France.

Dr. Henry Palmer is back with this cheeks bronzed by ocean breeze, his step firm and his health better than ever. Dr. and Mrs. Palmer were in Europe just four weeks, spending most of their time in England and Paris.

"Spring was just breaking in England," said the doctor to a Gazette reporter. "The season is much further advanced than it is here and the country is very beautiful."

"You didn't stay long enough in Paris to learn to speak French," was suggested.

"I could make myself understood easier in Paris than I could in London, anyway," said the doctor laughing.

The doctor's return trip was made on the Campania, the finest of the Cunard lines. This great craft is 625 feet long and 12,950 tons burden. It takes a crew of 425 to man her. The Cunard lines boast is that it never had a fatal accident, but there was a narrow escape from one on this last trip of the Campania.

"We had head seas all the way," said Dr. Palmer. "and water was pouring over the forward decks constantly. We kept plunging along at a speed of twenty-five miles an hour, though, and one night ran full into an iceberg. The shock pitched passengers from their berths and caused almost a panic. Quiet was restored and it was found that the ship below the water line was uninjured. Fifty feet above the water, though, plates of boiler iron half an inch thick had been smashed like wet paste board."

TOO WET TO SHOVEL MUD TODAY

Commissioner Hanthorn Obliged to Wait a Day or Two.

Teams and laborers turned out at 7 o'clock this morning to clean the mud piles from Main street, but the piles were too soft and Street Commissioner Hanthorn concluded that it could not be cleaned properly under such conditions. It will require a day or two of drying weather before the muck can be shoveled into wagons.

ALL THE PLANS MADE FOR VETS TO RALLY.

COMMITTEE NAMED BY THE DEPARTMENT COMMANDER.

Nearly a Thousand Old Soldiers Will Be Here In April—Discussion As to the Man Who Will Rule the Wisconsin Department Next Year.

As the time for the annual state encampment approaches, the subject of who is to be the next state commander natuaally forms the topic of conversation where veterans get together. Until recently it looked as if Colonel J. A. Watrous, of Milwaukee, had the field to himself, many of those who opposed him last year having promised him their support. But as usual, as the time of the encampment approaches other names are being mentioned and other candidates proposed, and the nomination will probably not go to anyone without the formality of a ballot or two. Colonel Watrous is conceded to be in the lead now. As to other possible candidates there are signs that the movements in the interest of Levi J. Billings, a lawyer of Rhinelander, and Richard Carter, of Dodgeville, will prove of most importance. Comrade Chandler, of Oshkosh, and M. Mangan, of Fond du Lac, are also spoken of and are said to be likely to be proposed and to develop considerable strength. So the probabilities are that there will be the usual good-natured contest for the honor.

GENTLEMEN:—I cannot say enough for your Powder. It has cured me of an aggravated attack of catarrh when nothing else could help me. Am delighted with it. All my friends to whom I administered samples are quite enthusiastic over it. The good sisters speak most encouragingly of their use of it in the Hospital under their care. I will do anything to speak a good word for the remedy to help others who are suffering.

M. E. FERGUSON, Custodian U. S. Appraiser's Stores, Chicago, writes:

GENTLEMEN:—Being almost entirely deaf for a number of years past and getting no relief from many so-called cures which I tried, was induced by a friend to try Dr. Birney's Catarrhal Powder for my deafness. Have recovered my hearing entirely, so that I can now hear a watch tick plainly, it being held 18 inches from my ear. I look upon it as a positive cure for deafness and have recommended its use to many of my friends and can say I have never heard of a case where it has failed to relieve.

ARKANAS CONVICTS TO WORK ON FARMS.

WILL SOON ENJOY AN ULTRA HUMANE SYSTEM.

The State to Go Into the Farming Business on Contract, Thus Removing the Possibility of Competition With Free Labor—An Admirable Change.

AN ARRANGEment just entered into by the state of Arkansas with a northern firm of capitalists seems to have solved the problem as to how we poor northerners can spend the winter months in the south surrounded by tropical vegetation and drink in the fragrance of balmy zephyrs even in February and never pay a cent for the privilege.

To be sure, to effect this decidedly inexpensive change from the land of wintry blasts and the treacherous cable car to the soft atmosphere of southern glades one would have to steal a horse, rob a henroost, set fire to a barn or commit some such act of an unconventional character sometimes regarded as criminal, but then, one can get used to anything, and the benefits which would accrue are not to be reckoned lightly.

In a word, the state of Arkansas has entered into an agreement with northern capital represented by Austin Corbin & Co. by which all the state's convicts are to be transferred into a sort of Garden of Eden where the mosquitoes bite not and the alligator does not pursue the festive pickaninny, writes a correspondent in a New York paper.

The spot chosen is a great farm situated on an island in Chicot lake, which is of a most peculiar formation, winding about the land as it does in the shape of a horseshoe, meeting at two extremities the Mississippi river. The water surroundings, of course, make the place an ideal one for the confinement of convicts.

These malefactors, instead of having to submit to the lockstep and close confinement of their northern brothers in crime, will work in the open air and will be well housed and well fed to such a degree that it is not believed they will try to escape, especially as their work will not be of a very laborious character.

Since the war the southern plantation owner has grown gray very young owing to the shiftlessness and absolute unreliability of the darkies, on whose labor he has had to depend for conducting a cotton plantation on a profitable basis. He soon found that the negro with a dollar in his pocket wouldn't work until he got ready, even if the crop went to ruin for the lack of some one to gather it.

With this idea in view the penitentiary commissioners of Arkansas, who comprise Governor Fishback, Attorney General Clarke and Secretary of State Armistead, after consultation with Mr. Corbin's representatives, decided to move all the convicts of the state to the Sunnyside plantation, on Chicot island.

It has long been a problem with the southern planters how to reduce the cost of growing cotton, render their lands more productive and make money out of their product. Many years ago the southern planters were generally wealthy, comfortable and satisfied with the results obtained from raising cotton, but of late years this condition of satisfaction has been changed to one of discontent, and now they are unanimous in their belief that there is less money in the product than heretofore.

Directly responsible for this condition of affairs are the unsettled state and unreliable tendency of the colored farm laborer, the farmer's inability to give to his crop the proper attention at the all-important season, and the consequence, in most cases, that the cotton stalk is not fruited as it should be, and an inferior grade of cotton is grown, which will hardly bring in the market the cost of production. Whether the laborer or the planter is responsible for this state of affairs is difficult to say, but investigation of the question leads one to conclude if cotton is properly planted, nursed and cared for in due season as it should be, there is abundant profit to the planter even at a much less price than has lately ruled the market.

There is as much dependent upon the laborer in the cultivation of cotton as in the management or fertility of the soil, and the solution of the problem of making money in raising cotton, investigations show, rests in the land being plowed, the product planted, hoed, protected and harvested all in due and proper season, and the fact is proven that it is most essential to a southern planter that he should have his labor entirely under control.

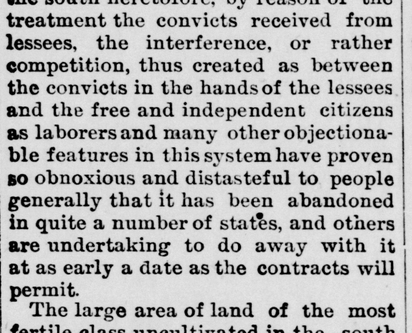

RIGHT HON. WILLIAM EWART GLADSTONE,

Until recently Prime Minister of Great Britain. Popularly known as the "Grand Old Man." Was born in 1809, made his maiden speech sixty years ago, as a tory, and has a history too full of events to be chronicled here. The principal achievement of his late years has been the introduction of local self-government in England. He leaves the accomplishment of home rule for Ireland as a legacy to others.

Equally as troublesome and complicated as the labor question is to the southern planter has been the convict question with southern state officials. As a matter of course the state is required to clothe, feed and guard its convicts. The lease system, which has been the more nearly universal one in the south heretofore, by reason of the treatment the convicts received from lessees, the interference, or rather competition, thus created as between the convicts in the hands of the lessees and the free and independent citizens as laborers and many other objectionable features in this system have proven so obnoxious and distasteful to people generally that it has been abandoned in quite a number of states, and others are undertaking to do away with it at as early a date as the contracts will permit.

The large area of land of the most fertile class uncultivated in the south from lack of planters renders the farm about the only place on which a convict can be worked where competition does not exist and where the revenue to be derived is far in excess of that under the lease system.

When negotiations were begun by the state of Arkansas for the lease of Sunnyside there was considerable opposition from certain sources, but a thorough investigation of the property led the state officials to conclude that it was the only tract of land in the state that would answer all the purposes required and at the same time prove self-sustaining and profitable. It has heretofore been considered about the best the state could do to receive a revenue of $36 to $40 per annum for each convict able bodied and competent to do such work as coal mining, railroad building, etc., but the revenue thus derived was hardly sufficient to take care of the weaker class of convicts who were not physically able to work at anything.

It is estimated that by this arrangement with the Sunnyside plantation, not from mere figures and what should be done, but from actual results obtained in past years in farming this land, a very good profit yer year may be realized when all is in working order. It is thought a profit may be obtained which would net the state from $175 to $200 per annum per convict.

This farm affords ample facilities for the raising of meat, sugar, corn, syrup—in fact, everything for subsistence and luxury, and after the first year there will be no need of buying anything and the owner of the property can the first year supply the state at a very low rate with ample food for their men from the products of 1893.

Its area ready for cultivation of five thousand acres could afford work for seven hundred to eight hundred convicts for nine months in the year in the cultivation of cotton and corn. Its valuable timbered lands, covering seven thousand acres of virgin forest, afford work for many years to come for the odd time of their men when not actively engaged in farming operations. The railroad of twelve miles running through the property which is owned by the Sunnyside company affords every facility for the transportation of their men without delay to and from their work, and of the timber to the lake and river landings.

It is the purpose of the state and the owner of the plantation to increase the cultivatable area from year to year, as the labor of the convicts may be spared from farming operations, and it is understood that of the entire twelve thousand acres there is not an acre but which is susceptible of the highest state of cultivation for the growth of cotton and other products, and without fertilizer of any kind.

It has long been a question of grave consideration how the many complications arising out of the present convict system in Arkansas could be adjusted, and it will no doubt be a source of great relief to the public of that state generally to know that arrangements have now been consummated whereby the convicts are out of competition with free labor and apart by themselves in a perfectly healthy, safe and most fertile section of the state, where they will no longer be a drain on the treasury of the state, but on the contrary turn into such deserving funds as the public schools and charity accounts a revenue of $50,000 to $100,000 above all expenses per annum.

A Disputed Case.

Many persons dispute the question as to whether or not baldness caused either by disease or neglect can be cured. In deciding the question allow us to say that most cases can be cured, while others can not. Only a specialist of years of experience can tell this. Professor Birkholz, the world-renowned German specialist of the Masonic Temple, Chicago, where those who desire a good head of hair or beard can consult him in private, and free of charge. After a thorough examination, which costs you nothing, we will tell you whether or not you may procure that trait of personal adornment so necessary to your existence, and if we find that the follicles are not all dead, we will treat you and guarantee the results or ask no pay. SANSPAREIL

AN AMERICAN QUEEN

AND HER FOUR DAUGHTERS.

A Scene on the 3 O'clock Express Between Boston and Worcester, Mass.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

It was a pretty sight.

The passengers turned around in their seats to better note the something unusual.

A noble looking woman had entered the car, followed by four daughters, ageing from fifteen to twenty years. The mother had one of those good and wholesome faces that one so rarely sees, but that men and women always admire. The daughters had the same healthy, wholesome look. They were well born, well cared for, and, without doubt, never suffered from any of the ills that curse many women.

Mothers owe a duty to their daughters that in too many cases is neglected.

Nature has provided a time for purification, and if the channels are obstructed, the entire system is poisoned and misery comes.

Mrs. Chas. Hines of Duncannon, Pa., a woman of large experience, in speaking of a mother's duty, says: "Watch carefully your daughters' physical development.

"Mothers should see that nature is assisted, if necessary, to perform its office, and keep their daughters well informed as to matters concerning themselves."

Irregularities, from whatever cause, are sure indications of organic trouble. With irregularities come disturbance of the stomach and kidneys.

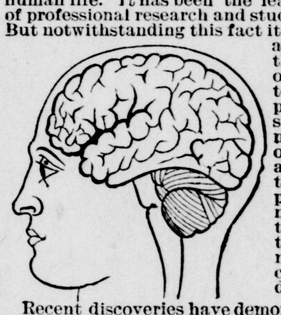

Violent headaches often attack the victim, pains shoot everywhere. Extreme irritability follows quickly, and then utter despondency overwhelms the already overburdened life. Unless the obstruction is removed at once, your daughter's whole future will be darkened.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will accomplish the work speedily. It is the most effective remedy for irregular or suspended action known.

MYSTERIES!

The Nervous System the Seat of Life and Mind. Recent Wonderful Discoveries.

No mystery has ever compared with that of human life. It has been the leading subject of professional research and study in all ages. But notwithstanding this fact it is not generally known that the seat of life is located in the upper part of the spinal cord, near the base of the brain, and so sensitive is this portion of the nervous system that even the prick of a needle will cause instant death.

Recent discoveries have demonstrated that all the organs of the body are under the control of the nerve centers, located in or near the base of the brain, and that when these are deranged the organs which they supply with nerve fluid are also deranged. When it is remembered that a serious injury to the spinal cord will cause paralysis of the body below the injured point, because the nerve force is prevented by the injury from reaching the paralyzed portion, it will be understood how the derangement of the nerve centers will cause the derangement of the various organs which they supply with nerve force.

Two-thirds of chronic diseases are due to the imperfect action of the nerve centers at the base of the brain, not from a derangement primarily originating in the organ itself. The great mistake of physicians in treating these diseases is that they treat the organ rather than the nerve centers which are the cause of the trouble.

DR. FRANKLIN MILES, the celebrated specialist, has profoundly studied this subject for over 20 years, and has made many important discoveries in connection with it, chief among them being the facts contained in the above statement, and that the ordinary methods of treatment are wrong. All headache, dizziness, dullness, confusion, pressure, blues, mania, melancholy, insanity, epilepsy, St. Vitus dance, etc., are nervous diseases no matter how caused. The wonderful success of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is due to the fact that it is based on the foregoing principle.

DR. MILES' RESTORATIVE NERVINE is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by DR. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It contains neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.
